A Message from the Louisiana CASA Executive Director

As we are well into 2009, it is important to take a moment to reflect on 2008 and acknowledge the hard work and commitment of staff, volunteers, and supporters. Because of this dedication, thousands of Louisiana's abused and neglected children were given voice through the eyes and ears of a community advocate. Because of this steadfast belief that we can make a difference by working together, children in foster care have found a safe and permanent home with a family that is caring and nurturing.

Here at Louisiana CASA, we keep our focus on the mission: supporting local programs in their work to be the difference in an abused child's life. Whether through training, support, community development, or recognition, our goal is to support and uplift those who really matter to the children we serve – our CASA volunteers and staff!

A Message from the President of the Louisiana CASA Board of Directors

Thanks again for your support in 2008. Because of your commitment to Louisiana's abused and neglected children, CASA programs were able to serve over 3,700 children. CASA programs in Louisiana continue to grow in strength and in numbers of children served. In many ways, you are the reason CASA has such an incredible impact in our state. Whether you are one of the 1,500 volunteers, a local program board member or staff, or partner or policy maker, it takes a spirit of cooperation and teamwork at the community level to make a real difference in the lives of abused and neglected children. As we are well into 2009, perhaps you have seen our efforts to get the message of CASA out to the communities about the need for more volunteers. Help us spread this message; talk to your family, friends, and co-workers. Let them know that they too can... BE The 1. Be a CASA. Again, thank you for your support!

CASA Programs in Louisiana Among Nation's Best

Louisiana ranks among the best in providing advocacy for abused and neglected children in foster care through its Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) programs, according to the National CASA Association. CASA volunteers are unique in that they focus exclusively upon the child's best interest. CASA volunteers are recruited from the community and are most often selected to serve only one child.

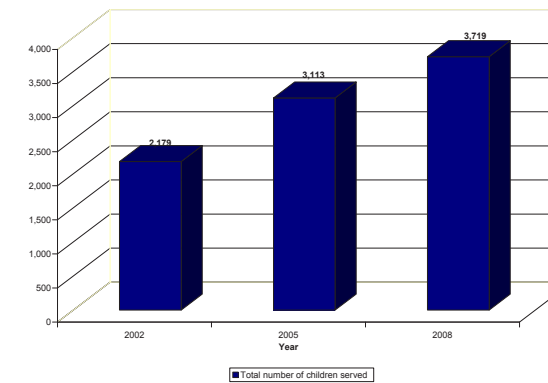

For Louisiana, CASA programs are serving more children with more volunteers than typical CASA programs in other states. Nationally, a CASA program has 37 volunteers serving 118 children. CASA programs in Louisiana typically have 110 volunteers serving 254 children.

Sally Erny, Chief Program Office for National CASA, echoed praise of CASA programs in Louisiana.

"We have found the work of the local CASA programs in Louisiana, as well as the Louisiana CASA Association, to be impressive. With the support of Louisiana CASA and the Louisiana Supreme court, local programs have grown and thrived in recent years. In total, CASA programs have over 1,500 active volunteers serving 4,000 abused and neglected children. This is a significant impact in a state where strong, high quality advocacy for children is critically needed.

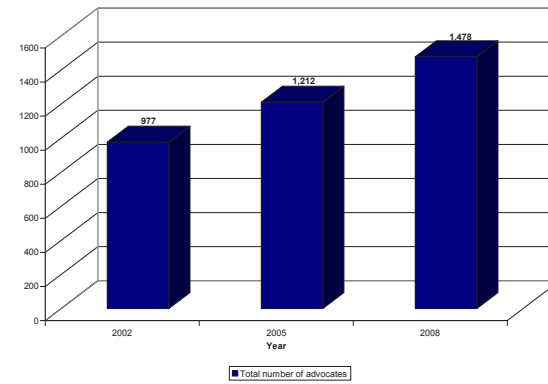

We are proud to be a partner with the Louisiana CASA Association and local CASA programs around the state and pledge our continued support to their efforts."

Total Number of Children Served by CASA Volunteers

The number of children that CASA Volunteers have served has more than doubled since 2002.
